PART 5 AUTHORISATION AND INDEMNITY FORM FOR TELEPHONE, TESTED MESSAGE, FACSIMILE AND SIGNED EMAIL INSTRUCTIONS ('INDEMNITY')

In this Indemnity, the term 'Instructions' should be taken to mean any notice, instruction, demand or other communication which may from time to time be given, or purport to be given, by telephone, tested message, facsimile transmission, or signed email transmission by us or on our behalf.

We authorise the Bank to rely upon and act in accordance with Instructions, without enquiry (without prejudice to the generality of the above) into the authority or identity of the person/persons giving or purporting to give them and regardless of the circumstances at the time of receipt.

The Bank shall be entitled to treat the Instructions as fully authorised and binding upon us. The Bank may respond appropriately, placing such reliance upon the Instructions as the Bank may consider appropriate, paying money or debiting or crediting the account, or transferring any money, securities or documents. Instructions may also bind us to any agreement or arrangement with the Bank, regardless of their nature and value, and notwithstanding any error, ambiguity, misunderstanding or lack of clarity.

In consideration of the Bank acting in accordance with this Indemnity, we hereby irrevocably and unconditionally undertake to indemnify and hold the Bank harmless and to keep the Bank indemnified and held harmless against any and all actions, liabilities, proceedings, damages, acts, claims, demands, expenses or losses of whatsoever nature and howsoever arising which may result or which you may suffer, incur or sustain directly or indirectly, in connection with, or arising from the Bank having acted or refused to act or having delayed acting upon such Instructions, whether or not given by the persons authorised to give them, save for actions resulting from wilful misconduct or gross negligence on the part of the Bank and its employees.

The Indemnity shall remain in full force and effect unless and until the Bank receives, and has a reasonable time to act upon, notice of termination from us in accordance with the terms of the Client Agreement. Such termination will not release us from any liability under this Indemnity for any act prior to the expiry of such time.

This Indemnity shall be governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of England and Wales. We hereby submit to the non-exclusive jurisdiction of the courts of England and Wales in connection herewith.

APPENDIX

GUIDANCE ON THE MEANING OF INVESTMENT TERMS USED IN THE CLIENT AGREEMENT

Execution only

Trades are executed by Israel Discount Bank Limited on the specific instructions of a client. The firm does not give advice on the merits of the transaction.

Advisory

Israel Discount Bank Limited provides advice at the time of dealing and accepts an ongoing role as investment manager. The client should provide information about his attitude to risk and underlying investment objectives, and inform the bank should these change. The firm may contact the client to discuss the portfolio, but any decision concerning the business undertaken is solely that of the client. The bank will send periodic valuations as agreed or on request. The bank may ask the client to reconfirm his understanding of the business relationship.

Investment objectives

The following industry standards apply:

To maximise income: for those whose immediate need for income outweighs the need for capital growth. The client accepts that a high fixed interest component may over time erode the real value of the investments. Furthermore, high yield investments carry an increased opportunity for capital appreciation but also a higher risk of loss.

To maximise capital growth: for clients with income from other sources and therefore are prepared to accept a lower than average yield in return for greater capital appreciation. Such portfolios exhibit above average volatility, especially in adverse market conditions.

Balanced return: a combination of the two above objectives.

Risk level

Low: these are generally stocks which are issued or guaranteed by governments. Other high grade securities with appropriate credit rating may qualify, but equities are normally excluded.

Low/medium: a balance between low and medium risk

Medium: most types of security from the leading 350 UK companies or their overseas equivalent. This band also includes the majority of investment and unit trusts. Unless the bank is otherwise instructed, this band would often contain a mixture of securities to create diversified risk, but would not have undue weighting of high risk securities.

Medium/high: a balance between medium and high

High risk: This includes securities issued by small companies, or with short trading histories, or involved in exploratory or innovative industries. It may also include large companies with known past difficulties, where recovery is possible, or units which themselves invest in such stock, or specialise in high risk instruments such as warrants. It also includes concentrations in smaller companies that would otherwise be medium risk.

Time horizon

The minimum period that you intend to hold your investments. A longer time horizon may allow you to hold higher yield but riskier investments, as there is less likelihood of temporary fluctuations in value.
